Abbey House Glastonbury

Encounter Weekend

Our meetings are unstructured, taking encounter form usually, plus workshops developed by participants on occasion.

Abbey House was built in the 1830s and is situated in the original grounds of the Abbey. With the dissolution of the Abbey by Henry VIII the grounds fell into disrepair, but have remained one property and provide an oasis of calm within the town. Abbey House guests enjoy the privilege of access to the Abbey grounds from the House gardens. In 1907 the house and abbey grounds were purchased by the Diocese of Bath and Wells and, in 1931 the house was dedicated as a retreat house. It has been appreciated, ever since by all those who stay there.

The house can sleep up to 37 people, in 19 single, 5 twin, and 3 double (one with additional single bed) rooms. The 2 double rooms are en-suite and there are plenty of bathrooms around the house. All rooms are on the first floor and there is a chair lift available. Many of the rooms have views of the Abbey. All meals are prepared in the kitchen and local produce and suppliers are used wherever possible. Seasonable fruit and vegetables are fresh from the garden. Special diets can be supplied by prior request. We use the main sitting room for encounter, and there are other rooms the chapel, library and small sitting room, which offer space for lesser numbers. Audio-visual equipment is available and both the sitting room and chapel have a loop system. There is a small basement chapel, offering the opportunity for quiet whatever the rest of the house is doing.

Getting to Glastonbury

The nearest railway stations, depending on where you are coming from, are Bristol, Bath, Bridgewater or Castle Carey... Bus services are approximately hourly from Bristol, Bath and Bridgewater, and a taxi service is available from Castle Carey. The bus journey takes about an hour. The taxi will take about 15 minutes. Coaches run to Bristol, Bath or Wells. And there are local bus services from all of these, to Glastonbury. The bus from Wells to Glastonbury takes about 15 minutes.

Abbey House is quiet and peaceful, but the main road of Glastonbury is just a few hundred yards from the main entrance. Glastonbury Tor is less than a miles walk. We are welcome at the abbey from 4.00pm on Friday and expect to have left the premises by 4.00pm on Sunday. Nearer the time we are to meet, a list of delegates with phone numbers will be circulated so individuals can offer travel sharing.
